Employee Handbook - Working Conditions and Leave Policy

Working Hours

The standard work week runs Sunday through Thursday, 8 hours per day (40 hours per week), in line with Saudi Labor Law. Core hours are 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM with a one-hour break. Employees in Operations and IT-Cybersecurity supporting production systems may be assigned to a rotating on-call schedule, compensated separately per the On-Call Policy.

Annual Leave

- All full-time employees are entitled to 30 calendar days of paid annual leave per year, accrued monthly.
- Leave requests must be submitted through the HR portal at least 5 working days in advance for periods under 5 days, and 15 working days for periods of 5 days or more.
- A maximum of 10 unused leave days may be carried over into the following year; any excess is paid out at year-end.

Sick Leave

Employees are entitled to sick leave in accordance with Saudi Labor Law: the first 30 days at full pay, the next 60 days at 75% pay, and any additional period up to 30 days unpaid, supported by a valid medical certificate from an approved provider.

Maternity and Paternity Leave

- Maternity leave: 10 weeks, which may begin up to 4 weeks before the expected due date, at full pay.
- Paternity leave: 3 days of paid leave upon the birth of a child.

Code of Conduct

Employees are expected to maintain confidentiality of all internal documents accessed via the Madar platform, in line with department-based access permissions. Sharing credentials or attempting to access another department's restricted folders is a violation of the Acceptable Use Policy and subject to disciplinary action.

Onboarding

New hires complete a 5-day onboarding program covering company policies, the Madar platform (file sharing, permissions model, and AI document search), information security awareness training, and department-specific systems access provisioning.

Performance Reviews

Formal performance reviews are conducted twice per year (mid-year and annual), with objectives set jointly by the employee and their direct manager and tracked in the HR system throughout the review period.
